BERLIN, Sept. 3.—The German government, in a semi-official announcement, reiterated its contention today that the Sudeten problem is a domestic Czechoslovak affair and not one calling for international intervention.

Following Reichstag Adolf Hitler's recent conference with Sudeten Leader Konrad Henlein, the Czech government and press intimated that Germany and Great Britain jointly must settle the issue.

On the contrary, the statement said, Germany feels that responsibility for a satisfactory solution lies with Prague. It is the Czech's responsibility to see that adequate steps are taken to meet the just demands of the Sudetens.

Acute Situation Dissolved.

The acute Nazi-Czech dispute over autonomy demands of the Sudeten Germans today appeared to have dissolved—for the time being at least—in a welter of official conferences that gave promise of continued European peace.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

A local motorist tells Pa Newc that while he was driving along the New Castle-New Wilmington road about noon Wednesday he picked up two young ladies who were thumbing their way to Meadville. He learned they were from New Castle and found them very good company, he reports.

There are no new detours in the local district, the Pennsylvania Highway department map for the coming week shows, and oiling operations have been suspended over the Labor Day holiday period in all sections of the state.

One of the oddities of nature was found today in Pukaski, it having been learned that there are blossoms on a young cherry tree on the property of Ellis Keagarse.

With the leaves beginning to drop from the trees, residents along newly paved streets need to be warned that they cannot be burned on these streets. Burning leaves on the newly paved streets will damage the street surfacing.

Both junior high schools in New Castle will have improved streets in front of them this fall and winter. Euclid avenue, fronting the George Washington high has been paved, and work of paving Cunningham avenue in front of the Ben Franklin high is in progress.

One business that doesn't seem to be overcrowded is that of house moving. Lawrence county has had occasion to move several houses on the right of way of the new Hillsville road recently and the community is in progress.

Colorado Flood Toll Is Mounting

Bodies Of Three Victims
Have Been Recovered In Flood Debris

PROPERTY DAMAGE REPORTED HEAVY

(International News Service)
DENVER, Sept. 3.—Discovery of two additional bodies at day-break today brought the number of known dead in Colorado floods to three. Sheriff Willis Morris of Golden said the body of an unidentified woman was found beneath a bridge just east of Morrison, Colo., and that of a 10 year old boy, also unidentified, was found nearby.

Morrison was one of several Colorado towns inundated by flood water which swept down a dozen northern Colorado canyons following torrential rains late Friday.

Heavy Property Damage

Property damage was estimated in the thousands. Mrs. Walter Boyd, a physician's wife, was drowned in Coal Creek 16 miles west of Denver when the automobile in which she was riding with her husband was swept away in the raging stream. Dr. Boyd narrowly saved himself.

A score of mountain streams poured tons of water down the Colorado and the town of Morrison, 14 miles to the southwest, was under water reports from the town said nine tenths of the business district was destroyed.

Drives 300 From Homes
At Erie, Colo., about 20 miles north of here, 300 persons were driven from their homes and Erie was inundated.

At Ideldale, just above Morrison, 12 persons were marooned on a tiny island. The state highway patrol forbade motorists to leave Denver by any route except U. S. Highway 85, South. All other roads were described as dangerous. A new "flood proof" highway in Bear Creek canyon was reported washed out.

The heavy rains and subsequent floods extended along the east slope of the Rockies from Southern Wyoming as far South as Castle Rock, Colo., 40 miles south of Denver.

In Hines Trial Spotlight

HOPE DARE

Defense in the James J. Hines policy racket trial in New York took the spotlight on the trysts of Hope Dare, showgirl, and J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, the state's star witness against Hines. Chief Defense Counsel Lloyd Paul Stryker charged that District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey permitted Davis to visit the red-haired showgirl as an "inducement" to turn state's evidence against Hines. Stryker brought out that Davis made his excursions to Miss Dare's apartment while he was a prisoner in the Tombs. Davis, on the stand, insisted that during visits with Miss Dare detectives always were present. He said he stopped there on visits to a doctor to change his clothes. Miss Dare, shown in a hitherto unpublished photo, above, may take the stand at the trial.

STATE AROUSED OVER SITUATION

(International News Service)
BALTIMORE, Sept. 3.—As all Maryland awaited President Roosevelt's visit over the week-end to carry on his opposition to anti-New Deal members of congress, new wedges were driven into Democratic party in the free state's "campaign of the century."

Rep. David J. Lewis, the Roosevelt candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination against Senator Millard E. Tydings, foe of the supreme court enlargement plan and other New Deal legislation, stated this issue in a state-wide broadcast: "Mr. Tydings represents the old deal. I represent the New Deal. That is the issue."

But Senator Tydings held to his line of debate that the President is "interfering" in the Maryland campaign. In similar addresses to four audiences here, he said:

Prepare To Observe Labor Day Holiday

Summer goes into her last act over the week end, vacationists prepare to get back to town, school children wash their necks preparatory to starting school and the summer park concessionaires get ready to shutter the hot dog stand. It's Labor Day.

That is, it will be on Monday, and while summer doesn't officially end until September 21, most of us mark it off on Labor Day and dust off our autumn frocks. #### TO FACE GRAND JURY THIS MONTH

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—Superintendent William B. Mills, his deputy and 12 of their aides charged with criminal negligence in the deaths of four hunger-strike convicts at Holmesburg prison, two weeks ago, today faced inquiry by the September grand jury.

Released under bail as agents responsible for the "roasting to death" of the men in the super-heated Klondike isolation cells, Mills and Deputy Warden Frank Craven had their bonds set at $10,000 each.

Guard Captain James McGuire, guards Alfred W. Brough and Francis Smith—arrested by city detectives early in the investigation—were released in bonds of $2,500 each.

Two other guards and guard sergeant James Hart, who admitted on the witness stand that he turned on the heat that, according to testimony killed the four men, were exonerated by a "blue-ribbon" coroner's jury.

Hart's exonerated came after he testified he acted under what he believed was standing procedure and that he reported to Craven "the heat was on."

Ordered held without bail by the jurors after a three-day inquest, Mills and his subordinates later had bail set by Judge Gerald Flood in quarter sessions court upon the application of defense counsel and with the consent of assistant district Attorney John A. Boyle.

Swift Conclusion Of California Manhunt Fails—

KIDNAP DEMANDS ARE NOW EXPECTED

(International News Service)
YUBA CITY, Cal., Sept. 3.—Swift conclusion of National Guardsmen's greatest manhunt failing, State and National Guardsmen withdrew today from the search for the kidnaped Mrs. Norma Meeks, 55-year-old wife of a prominent rancher.

Because federal law was not violated when two armed, masked men snatched Mrs. Meeks from her home late Thursday night, G-men temporarily withdrew from further activity in the case.

Expect Contact

Their withdrawal, together with the recall of National Guardsmen from the dramatic search, was interpreted as an indication that contact with the kidnapers was expected today—if Mrs. Meeks is still alive.

Hines' Defense To Be Started Soon

Prosecution Is Nearing End

Alleged Head Bookkeeper Of "Schultz Mob" Chief Witness Remaining

NO SESSION OF COURT TODAY

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Racket prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey's case against Tammany leader James J. Hines is drawing to a close and early next week—either late Tuesday or Wednesday—the defense will start its inquest.

Dewey today had admitted putting into the record a mass of evidence against Hines designed to prove his contention that the Tammany district "boss" was the man behind the scenes and the paid "fixer" for the notorious "Dutch" Schultz mob of policy racketeers.

Few More For Prosecution
Only a few more prosecution witnesses remain to be called, the chief of which will be "Big Harry" Schoenhaus, the head bookkeeper of the Schultz mob when it was running the $300,000-a-year "numbers" racket.

Hines for almost three weeks now has been pictured by Dewey witnesses as a man who "sold out" to the mob, who hopped-bobbed with the one time public enemy No. 1 Schultz took thousands of dollars from the gang at the rate of $500 a week and up, "fixed" judges so that policy racketeers were dismissed and helped elect a district attorney who allegedly agreed to "go light" on the illicit Schultz syndicate.

There was no session of the trial today, court having been recessed over Labor Day until Tuesday morning.

the tourist and the better weather the bigger the bite. Some of the early week enders got away Friday afternoon for Lake Erie, for Canada, for Southern Virginia, or for the Slippery Rock.

With good weather apparently on the schedule, the Pennsylvania Motor Police are under instructions to patrol the highways closer than they have all summer. In spite of this, the accident toll will be high, hospital emergency rooms will be well used, and the auto repair men will get their usual heavy business.

No Celebration Here
There will be no celebration in New Castle this year. The social calendar shows a host of reunions, picnics, and outdoor parties but no parades. After three in one week the average is still pretty good however.

You have probably been told what you ought to do over Labor Day but another warning won't do any harm.

Remember the other fellow has the same right on the highway you do.

Take it for granted that the other fellow isn't as careful as you are and give the road hogs room. It may burn you up, but let them take the route to the hospital.

The speed limit is fifty miles per hour and the motor police will be on the highway enforcing it. Arguments with them are wasted. They are enforcing the law.

If you want to stop on the highway, pull over until all four wheels are on the berm and then get out on the right side.

If you are in the woods, be careful with fires. The long dry spell has baked dead leaves until they are like tinder. When you have finished with your fire, cover it with earth.

From noon today until late Monday night the traffic rush is on. It's the Labor Day holiday. The last chance to get an extra day outdoors. Take care and be sure it isn't your last day outdoors.

FAIL TO LOCATE KIDNAPED WOMAN

time we can assume the kidnapers have crossed a state line.

No violation of federal law has been committed as yet, and there has been no violation that we can determine.

Many Volunteers In Search
Volunteers and deputies of Sheriff Ulrey swung into the search for the kidnapers early yesterday for less than two hours after Mrs. Meeks was spirited from her home in her own automobile.

Left bound and gagged with a strip of adhesive tape, her husband, W. R. Meeks, 60-year-old peach grower, worked himself free and telephoned a frantic plea to Sheriff Ulrey.

In notifying authorities, he disregarded the kidnapers' threat: "We're going to take your old lady along. You'll get her back when we get $15,000. We know all about kidnaping laws and all about the electric chair—but we want $15,000."

As the search grew in proportions, two companies of National Guardsmen and state highway patrolmen were ordered into service by Governor Frank P. Merriam.

Auto Is Found
With all highways blocked, at least 500 men combed the territory within a radius of 100 miles.

Some three hours after the two men dragged Mrs. Meeks from her home, the automobile in which they fled was found abandoned in near-by Maryland.

The car, apparently driven until its supply of gasoline was exhausted, had been taken from the Meeks garage. In it, police found a purse and spectacles belonging to Mrs. Meeks.

Investigators found numerous fingerprints on the car doors and cushions, some of which, it was believed, were made by the kidnapers.

PA NEW OBSERVES

missioners have discovered there is not a regular house mover in New Castle, at any rate none bid on the job. In by-gone years New Castle had several house movers, but in recent years there has only been one, and he has quit. This was discovered last summer when the commissioners tried to get a figure for the moving of a house on the Hillsville road. One reason why house movers are scarce is probably because there is no such thing as a steady employment at it. It is only once in a while that anybody wants to move a house. Highway construction has given an impetus to the business for the time being. Out at Portersville some twenty houses are to be moved for road widening purposes. It will be a real job for those equipped to do the work.

Not every man is so fortunate as Engineer John F. Ray of the Pennsylvania railroad, who brought his engine to a stop at Wheeland Wednesday of this week for the last time. As he stepped down from the cab he took off his hat, looked longingly at the engine, and said good-bye.

John had driven that old engine known to railroaders as No. 9000 thousands of miles. But as his wheels turned the wheels of time were turning for John, he had finally reached his 65th birthday, and was retiring on pension. But here is the nice part of it. John has saved his money, and is the owner of a 158 acre farm near Jamestown, Pa. While his engine may rust out, John won't. He will still keep young supervising his farm, and with his pension on the side, John is "sitting pretty."

There are two things that annoy some people, one is a barking dog, and the other is a crowing rooster. It's hard to tell which is the worst, and harder still to put a stop to it. No way to stop a barking dog seems to have been discovered, unless it be with a shotgun, but a local poultryman has solved the problem of a crowing rooster. He has built a hen-house and placed the rooster so near the ceiling that when the rooster raises his head to crow, he bumps it on the ceiling and changes his mind.

Frank C. Douds, whose machine shop on South Mill street has been a landmark for many years, notes that great changes have taken place in the industrial personnel of New Castle during the past forty years.

Our industries then were controlled by men who had been reared in this city, who had invested their capital, and who gave their personal supervision to the operation of their plants. Mr. Douds, then as now, a leading machinist, came in close contact with men at the head of the different plants, and helped them solve some of their most difficult problems. "I am not doing business with one of those men today," remarked Mr. Douds. "Most of them have passed on, the latest being John Stevenson formerly of New Castle, but later of Sharon, who died recently at his summer home in Canada. Yes, the years are passing, and they certainly do bring many changes."

Motorists returning from trips through the scenic spots of Pennsylvania complain that much of the scenery is marred by huge signs, which shut out the beautiful views, and arouse feelings of resentment. There are signs of all shapes, sizes and colors. Many of them are ugly and dirty, and cannot be considered anything else but eyesores. The state is spending thousands of dollars this year advertising the beauties of our scenery, but everywhere you go these signs are detracting from it. As you approach some cities the highways on both sides are so thickly plastered with signs that it is difficult to get a glimpse of the houses. We have laws to protect most everything, why not one to protect the landscape.

Pa. Now is still of the opinion that a fine traffic improvement here would be elimination of several of the abrupt curves in the State street hill.

Close Play Spots Without Mishaps

Twelve Playgrounds Concluding Season With A No Accident Record

Labor Day will bring to a close a very successful season of supervised playground activities in this city, without an accident reported.

There are 12 playgrounds throughout the city, sponsored by the Educational Recreational Council, a civic group composed of a representative from each of the eight wards of the city with Mrs. Harry Sturdevant as president. This organization has been active throughout the year, securing grounds suitable for recreation centers, sponsoring projects and assisting in every way possible.

City council provides the grounds and appropriate money for maintenance and operation. The WPA provides the supervisory and leadership staffs and the NYA assisted in clearing the grounds and also in the leadership.

Average 200
With a daily average of 200 children at each playground, more than 100,000 youngsters enjoyed this year's activities from Memorial Day to Labor Day. The playgrounds were open from nine a. m. to 7:30 p. m. daily. Handicraft was taught; games and tournaments conducted in football, tennis, badminton, paddle tennis and other sports.

Mrs. Agnes B. Howley and Frank Leonard, county supervisors, were leaders in their praise today for the fine co-operation they have received during the summer. They expressed themselves as being highly gratified with the success of the project, but modestly passed the credit to Mrs. Sturdevant, Educational Recreational Council, Dr. C. C. Green, the school board, Councilman Joseph Alexander, Mayor McGrath and city council. They also gave high praise to the 24 leaders who were in charge of the activities, as well as leaders of the National Youth Administration.

Although the grounds will be closed during the day after Labor Day, the work will continue each evening from four to seven until cold weather, when the indoor centers will open. Leaders will be on duty each evening at all playgrounds.

BELIEVE ACUTE CZECH DISPUTE CRISIS PASSED

Raden mountain retreat, was represented as having expressed an "unqualified desire" for continued negotiations toward peaceful settlement of the problem.

After conferring with Konrad Henlein, the leader sent the Sudeten party leader back to Czechoslovakia to advise the Prague government and the British mediator Viscount Runciman, that peace and not war is what Germany wants.

At the same time, Hitler made it clear that he regards as essential a "practical" solution of the question before the end of this year.

Henlein was instructed to inform all concerned that there is no time for "empty promises or dilatory diplomatic tactics" and that no plan would be acceptable which tended to postpone ultimate settlement of the minority question.

In the opinion of well informed quarters, this truce meant the final death and burial of the proposals advanced by President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia for a three-months truce.

Czechs Given Chance.
It also was declared that any acceptable plan would have to be drawn up within the framework of the eight demands laid down by Henlein several months ago at Carlsbad, and that it must be "fundamentally satisfactory to the rights and expectations of the Sudetens."

As the situation now stands, the Czech government apparently has been given a chance to attempt once more to draw up a proposition which the Sudetens and Hitler will accept.

Meanwhile, it seems likely that the threat of drastic measures against Czechoslovakia by Hitler during the Nazi party congress at Nuremberg, opening next week, has been removed.

If all these efforts fail, however, it is expected that Hitler in the end will notify the world that "the time has come when the Sudeten issue must be settled by the German Reich."

Week-End Conference.
Prague, Sept. 3.—A week-end of heavy—but peaceful—conferences regarding the autonomy demands of Czechoslovakia's Sudeten Germans was in prospect today following the return of Konrad Henlein, Sudeten leader, from his talks with Chancellor Hitler at Berchtesgaden.

Reliable but unofficial reports indicated that Henlein will confer with Viscount Runciman, British mediator, during the next day or two, probably at Marienbad, and that Runciman will call on President Eduard Benes on Monday.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CAN PARENTS CHANGE CHILD AT SCHOOL?

Ever so many parents write me, some panicky, about the child whose teacher has reported problems of his behavior at school. Many teachers write notes to parents or tell them about these matters. These teachers assume that the parents should, by some degree or punishment at home, change the child at school.

Teachers should know better. They have had training in psychology. At least they have been exposed to the words of this subject—too often only words, alas! Parents with less opportunity to learn psychology, already inclined to trust in absent controls, are prone to accept the teacher's suggestions, stated or implied. Accordingly, these parents will lecture and exhort the child, or punish him at home for complaints about him at school—nearly always in vain.

I wish I might persuade teachers and parents to see the folly of such procedure. I wish they realized that they practically never change basic habits, attitudes and traits of character by commanding them. I wish they knew that a parent can't effectively command a child at home what to do or not to do at school; that indeed, none of us can hope to control a child away from us by commanding him while he is at school.

Report On Conduct
In many places teachers have, especially in the early grades, omitted grades in letters and figures regarding subject matter, on the report card sent home. They have limited the report to traits of character and items of conduct and attitude. While this emphasis is in the right direction, it gives the school a bigger job than it had before. Will the school measure up?

If such reports are made without aiding the parents in correcting the deficiencies reported, more harm than good may ensue. Therefore, it would seem imperative for the teacher to see personally every parent whose child is reported lacking in any of the designated items, and be ready to analyze and plan with the parent concrete ways of helping this child at home to effect improvement in these traits at school.

Such procedure might be a hundred times more desirable than for the teacher to see the parent if the child had fallen low in reading, spelling or arithmetic. The school specializes in guiding children in learning school subjects. But it is the parents who, whether they know it or not, affect the character traits of the child most; and even while he is at school, perhaps.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

FOR BETTER FOOTBALL
Football used to be quite a game until the coaches took to not only teaching the young players the game, but taking the playing of the game entirely in their hands.

It is now just a game of chess played by the coaches with the players as chess pieces. The captain of the varsity team should be in complete control of that team. The captain should listen to the coach's advice before the game and make his own decisions in the game after the whistle blows.

This has been done at Yale University. We need men of education with executive ability who can make their own decisions.

If football education means anything, it means the teaching of self-reliance and courage. The huddle should be banned. Substitutions should not be permitted during a quarter except because of injury. Impartial physicians and the officials should decide if said injury was sufficient to call for a substitution.

College football is failing to do what it was intended for: to build character and physical staying power in young men.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

JUST A MAN
This is how we felt about him; If he said it, he believed it. He gave no one cause to doubt him; Paid the bill as he received it.

Gave and never mentioned giving; Helped and never talked of aiding; Held all joy a part of living; Just as much as sin-eating.

Had a certain sense of beauty; And the niceness of creation; Held the man who did his duty Earned and merited salvation.

Without any fuss or bother; He assumed his share of labor; Loved as a devoted father; Workman true and cheerful neighbor.

HINTS and DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:29. Sun rises tomorrow 5:30.

A local lady was going to have her hair styled for a party. She thought the price was too high.

A text book tells us there are only six tastes—sweet, salt, sour, bitter, metallic and alkaline. How about "good" and "bad"?

A judge discharged a man charged with striking electric wires in his garden to keep dogs from destroying his flowers and vegetables. That judge evidently has a garden in a neighborhood where people let their curs do their worst work.

A bird at Hamburg, N. Y., picked the lock of the jail with a match, went out, got something to eat and then went back into the jail. That jail must be a nice place, but short on cats and also on poor locks.

A prison official says convicts make the easiest audiences for a lecturer and are ready to laugh at his jokes. Of course they are—listening to puns may be tough work but it's not nearly as hard as working on the rock pile.

A Stupid Owl:
The adage of the wise owl has been scooped by the U. S. Biological Survey. The explanation offered is: "The owl is simply like a lot of people—he doesn't say much because he doesn't know anything to say."

AMERICANISM: Sizzling with wrath when we are delayed thirty seconds at a crossing, reaching our destination and wishing we had something interesting to kill time.

There is no strife where all desire justice. Our trouble is that each group is determined to have what it doesn't deserve.

DEMOTION UP
William Volner was councilman and head of the street department in Glasgow, Pa., but he received no pay. So he quit his appointment himself a truck driver in the street department where he now draws a salary.

A statesman tells people what they should know, and takes the consequences; a politician tells them what they wish to hear, and takes the gravy.

Comic-strip Maggie isn't true to nature; she isn't mean enough. Woolcott tells about a woman who sold her blind husband's dog because it enabled him to go out without her.

Dear Miss Markel—I have just received a written invitation to dinner at the home of a woman whom I do not know very well. Would you please give me an idea as to how I should reply?

Answer—Here is a form of acceptance: "I shall be delighted to dine with you on Wednesday, the seventh, at eight o'clock. Thank you so much for thinking of me."

Regret—"I am very sorry that I am unable to accept your dinner invitation for the seventh, as I had already made another engagement."

"Please ask me soon again for it gives me to have to decline this time."

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader including a self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

What that university president who said there were too many college students probably meant was that there were too many people attending college who refused to be students.

A West Virginia man claimed he was so hard up he had to smash his false teeth to get the gold out of them to hook to get something to eat. Maybe he got some liquid refreshment.

Five thousand years of developing the mind, and yet marriage is a tragedy if one partner doesn't enjoy love-making.

Among others losing their jobs are the Indian and buffalo on your nickel. They might have known when they first appeared in 1492, that the position wasn't permanent.

When the backward and ignorant live in a dream world to save their pride, nothing else insults them like the truth.

Now that everybody else has said his say, we nominate Barbara Stanwyck as the only one who really seems like hard-boiled Scarlett.

It is nice to have freedom, but not so nice to be held up before the world as proof that freedom won't work.

That great racketeer, Hines, who is being tried in New York, was once a blacksmith. This shows what a man can accomplish if he uses his head instead of a hammer.

A traveling show is displaying a person living without brains. The remarkable part is that this one isn't under a steering wheel.

Penniless and in obscurity, he lay for three days at Southern mortuary unidentified after being found dead in a lodging house from heart failure.

Then medical examiner Dr. Timothy Leary opened an old fashioned gold watch. Inside was the inscription: "To George Clark from Admiral Robert E. Peary."

Memory stirred. He was George Marlow Clark, pilot hero, one of Admiral Peary's most trusted lieutenants, and a survivor of the ill-fated unsuccessful dash to the North Pole in 1894.

Two More Games In Tournament

Varieties Defeat Checker Girls, 15 To 1; Friendship Girls Win

PISULA HURLS ONE-HIT GAME

Two more games were played in the Lawrence county girls' softball tournament to complete the first round of play. There were 14 teams at the start and now there are seven teams left. General Chairman Rocco P. Viggiano announces the next set of games for next Tuesday night.

Pitches One-Hitter
Miss Pop Pisula stole the show last night at the Gaston Park field when she gave the highly touted Checker girls but one hit to win for the Factor Varieties, 15 to 1. The heavy hitting of Perrell, Stojica, Apostol, Lysko and Frenkel featured the game.

Plonka of the Checker girls, had the hit that spoiled a no-run no-hit tourney game for Miss Pisula. The Factors are the heavy favorites to win the tourney this year. They will meet the Progressive girls next Tuesday at Gaston Park field.

Friendship Street Girls Win
Scoring 16 runs in the first inning and 12 more in the seventh inning, the Friendship Street girls became real tourney threats last night at the Liberty Street field, topping the Willow Grove maidens, 37 to 7, under a barrage of 40 hits. The pitching of Helen Alack was fine for the winners.

Miss Stephenson was the Willow Grove pitcher and was found for 40 safe blows. Razzano of the Willow Grove team, drove in all of the Willow Grove runs on three homers, to feature the game. All of the Friendship girls played fine softball and checked the ball hard in every inning. The supervisors and umpires made a big hit with the fans.

ACES WIN GAME
The Aces of the North Hill ended their 1938 season yesterday by taking the measure of the Redskins, 16 to 7. This was the ninth victory of the year against one defeat. The winning pitcher was Stock. Heavy hitting was done by Bradley, Bevan and Stock.

Bessemer Upsets Red Sox 6 To 4

Three Home Runs In One Inning Local Record It Is Believed

Bessemer, County League champs won from the New Castle Red Sox last night at Washington High field in a benefit game. The score was 6 to 4. Quite a nice turnout saw the game.

The Bessemer boys, Gomez, Nord and Hardesty probably set a new local record in the fourth inning by hitting home runs, three in one inning is very unusual. Bessemer used three heavy hitters, Hardesty, Nord and Snyder. The Sox used two hurlers, "Dutch" Updegraff and "Red" Wilson. Tommy Strausbaugh had the longest hit for the Sox. W. Puroinski of Bessemer had a homer.

Eight Battles Monday Night

Nine Of 16 Battlers Will Be Boxing Here For First Time

MORAN AND BLANK CARDED FOR ACTION

LIST OF BOUTS
Harold Blank, Youngstown, vs Al Sayers, Chester, W. Va., 140 pounds.
Frankie Moran, New Castle, vs Billy Sharp, Wierton, W. Va., 126 pounds.
Frankie Karik, Youngstown, vs Bert Sharp, Wierton, W. Va., 155 pounds.
Steve Morgan, Youngstown, vs Bobby Carmichael, Wierton, W. Va., 160 pounds.
Sover Graham, Chester, W. Va., vs Mutt Casale, Wierton, W. Va., 145 pounds.
Nick Retardo, Ellwood City, vs Jimmy Cardova, Youngstown, 135 pounds.
Johnny Fuzi, Wierton, W. Va., vs Johnny Cornell, Chester, W. Va., 114 pounds.
Jimmie Jones, Youngstown, vs Wesley Rodgers, Grove City, 142 pounds.

Labor day is Monday and at 8:30 p. m. there will be an eight fight program in the Grove Street playground. The fight production is the only athletic attraction of importance scheduled locally and no doubt the crowd will be one of the largest yet to attend amateur fights here. The choice appearing scraps on the program are those between Harold Blank of Youngstown vs Al Sayers of Chester, W. Va., and Frankie Moran of New Castle vs Billy Sharp of Wierton, W. Va.

Blank has captured all bouts in which he has participated here and in his last appearance outpointed the rugged Steve Kowalik of Pittsburgh. It was a battle in which Blank was forced to employ all his ring acumen and science. However, like aged wine the Youngstown 140 pounder seems to improve with each succeeding battle and Sayers, said to be a two-fisted chap, science and possessing a punch in either hand is expected by his manager to give Blank a real scrap.

Another fight on the calendar which will attract considerable attention is the Moran-Sharp 126 pound battle. Frankie lost the last time he fought Smokey Robinson. He did not issue any alibis following the battle but it was noticed he did not put up the same kind of a show. In the third round that he staged in the first two rounds. His last fight recently was with Babe Hutchison. He is anxious to win Monday then take on Hutchison or Robinson again.

Retardo Appears Again
Wesley Rodgers of Grove City made one appearance here and in the midst of a slug-bing-bee with Jimmie Jones of Youngstown, the latter junior welterweight sustained a cut above one of his eyes. Instead of permitting Jones to continue and perhaps have the gasp lengthened the fight was stopped and Jones was given another chance and that will come Monday night.

Blank and Sayers will meet Monday night at 8:30 p. m. at the Grove Street playground. The Youngstown boy is not averse to standing toe to toe and if Bert is that kind of a mauler a real brawl may be anticipated at 155 pounds.

Steve Morgan of Youngstown will oppose a tough hombre in Bobby Carmichael of Wierton, W. Va. Carmichael lets his swings start from the floor and land where they will. Morgan has fought Al Naples and other tough warriors and is not averse to sluging it out at 160 pounds.

Johnny Fuzi of Wierton and Johnny Cornell, bantamweights, will settle the question of supremacy on soft here, which is quite a distance from their home town while Sover Graham of Chester will box Mutt Casale of Wierton at 145 pounds.

Radiators Even Up Title Series, Top Amodies, 5-4

Bob Pascarella Outpitches Bishara And Pezzone, Benefit Game On Sunday

FRANKIE COPPLE FEATURE HITTER

The National Radiators evened up the current seven-game series for the City-Softball championship last night at the Radiator field by handing the Amodies a 5 to 4 defeat with Bob Pascarella doing a swell job of hurling. The series now stands at one apiece. The game Sunday will start at 2:45 o'clock and will be a benefit for Sammy Bullano. This game will be at Gaston Park.

The Rads couldn't do much with Bishara until the fifth and then they drove the speedball artist to the showers with a five run attack. Sammy Pezzone finished the game for the Amodies.

Copple Hits Homer
Frankie Copple was the feature hitter in the game getting a beautiful home. Gabby DeCaprio bustled out with a triple and Jimmy Deep slashed a double for the only extra-bases of the game. The Amodies scored first, getting a lone run in the second inning, but couldn't keep the Rads quiet in the fifth. Jimmy Deep and Sammy Copple were the only Amodie players able to get more than one hit off of the clever Pascarella. Joe Mazzari back in the Rads lineup at first base in place of Stone had three of the nine hits made by the Rads. Austin Cowmadow had two of the hits for the Rads.

Benefit Game Sunday
The game Sunday for Sammy Bullano will no doubt draw a big crowd to Gaston Park field. It was announced by Manager Dundo Ammodia. Bullano was injured in a recent Radiator-Amodie game. The work of the umpires last night was very fine. The same three umpires will work the game Sunday at Gaston Park field. It was announced by President Franklyn Crisci today.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion wants to come to this city, not as the deadliest fistic knight of the present day but as a top-notch softball player. The undisputed ruler of the heavyweight ranks is a first baseman of his softball squad, which is known as the Brown Bombers. Softball is said to be the Brown Bomber's only hobby and every minute he steals away from fistic practice finds him practicing softball. Freddie Summers, softball representative of Louis, telephoned the writer last night asking if arrangements could be made for the Brown Bombers to meet an All-Star team from New Castle. The only barrier is an enclosed field. The information today was turned over to our co-sports worker, Charlie Walthers and Franklyn Crisci.

Old Furnace team of Zelenople and North Hills, Pittsburgh, will play polo games Sunday and Monday afternoons at Zelenople.

Old Timers Beat Horseshoe Hurlers

Veterans Prove Too Much For Youngsters On Allen Street Court

On Friday evening, at the Allen street horseshoe court, an interesting match was played between the "Old Timers", a group which used to be the last word around the local district when it came to horseshoe golf, and the youngsters who are new representing New Castle on the court.

Although the hand of Father Time had bent their backs and whitened their locks, he had not taken away from their skill with the iron circle, and when the match had ended, it was found the old boys had won 11 games to the youngsters seven.

The way the Old Timers hurled these three-quarter turns at the peg, for double ringers, time after time, not only amazed the crowd, but won their admiration.

It was proven that in horse shoe pitching, unlike most sports, youth does not have an advantage.

Elders To Play Wheatland Team

Stock Market
Higher TodayTrading Is Moderately Active,
Gains Of Point And
More Are ShownBy LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The stock market today extended the previous session's wide recovery by a point and more.

Trading was moderately active at the opening, with blocks of stock running to 1,500 shares changing hands, but volume contracted with the influx of light profit-taking for over the week-end. Attendance in the financial district was extremely light, as traders took advantage of the extended Labor Day holiday.

While the German-Czech situation continued a depressing influence, international brokers felt some sort of compromise would be worked out without recourse of war. The Amsterdam bourse, only important European market open, was quiet and firm. Major foreign currencies, though, again were under pressure and dropped to new lows on the move.

Further signs of improvement in steel operations after Labor Day brought buying into the steel shares, also encouraging to Wall Street was the continued contra-seasonal upturn in rail freight loadings.

Steels, along with motors, coppers and chemicals, were in the van of the further rise.

Allied Chemical and DuPont each were up more than 2 points at their best levels, while Air Reduction gained about half as much.

Sears Roebuck, Lone Star Cement, Santa Fe, Chesapeake &amp; Ohio, Owens-Illinois Glass, Phelps-Dodge, Luau's and American Telephone each climbed a point or more before meeting profit-taking.

Most commodities drifted toward slightly lower levels.

The bond market closely followed the pattern of the stock list.

Motor Club Busy With Requests

Tourist Traffic Heavy Just Now, Exceeds That Of A Year Ago

Inquiries for highway information continue as heavy this week as they have in the past ten, according to B. N. Hanlon, secretary of the New Castle Motor club, with the week just closing topping anything in the past six years.

From the requests for routes to Toronto, Canada, many New Castle and Lawrence county motorists are taking in the Canadian National Exposition, according to Mr. Hanlon. Seventy per cent of the calls are for information for two trips, one thru Washington and the Shenandoah Valley and up the Sky Line drive and the other the trip to the Canadian exposition.

Either of them are trips that require but a few days. The Toronto expedition can be seen in a three-day trip easily and the same thing goes for the Sky Line drive although most people take more time in order to take in Monticello at Charlottesville. In the case of the Canadian trip most people plan to stop at the Falls for a time.

One point of interest on a trip to Toronto is the Welland canal. Little talked of but one of the most fascinating sights on the trip. The canal runs between Lake Erie and Lake Ontario and really takes boats "over the mountain." By a series of eight locks the boats are raised 326 feet from Lake Ontario to Lake Erie and at the present time traffic is heavy. About 30 boats a day are being locked through and in a week or two the huge grain boats will be going through.

A motorist crosses the canal just this side of St. Catharines, Ontario, and the trip to the twin lakes is a side trip of not more than four miles round trip. Everything from small schooners to sea going vessels are hoisted or lowered, depending on which direction they are going.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS
Leroy Freed to Edwin C. Morris, Big Beaver township, $1.
Inez M. Holy to Nancy Hilliard, Neshannock township, $1.

Statement of County Treasurer V. J. Mandan as of August 30, shows a balance of $830,347.77 in the county treasury. It is divided as follows: General fund, $350,443.49; institutional, formerly called the poor fund, $198,608.45; gasoline fund, $101,619.76; road and school, $22,994.82; tax lien fund, $641.75. The money is deposited in the different banks of the county.

County commissioners have passed a resolution extending the contract of Wolfe and Company, auditors on the county books to November 1. Wolfe and Company were first employed to audit the books of former County Treasurer William O. Pitts and later to audit the books of former County Treasurer Joseph H. Harland. The contract expired on September 1, hence the resolution to extend them, as the work is not nearly finished.

H. Meade Thompson, administrator in the estate of Earl F. Thompson, presented a petition to court to carry out a contract or parole agreement made by the late Earl F. Thompson, in which he sold property in the Third ward to Clyde H. Lamb for $1,200 and the assumption of a mortgage by Lamb for $1,900. Judge Dickey authorized Administrator Thompson to carry out the terms of the agreement.

County commissioners passed a resolution today under which the different county assessors in the various wards of New Castle will be required to present an itemized account of the work actually done during a month, before they can draw any compensation. The assessors are paid for the days they work. When the triennial assessment is made they have already worked for some time, but after it is completed their only work is to look after new houses and changes that may be made. There is no triennial assessment being made this year.

Begin Plans For Teachers Meeting

Mid-West Section P. S. E. A. To Be Held Here On October 21, At Cathedral

With the opening of school next week, the teachers of the New Castle public schools will begin preparing for the annual convention of the mid-west section, Pennsylvania State Education association, which will be held in the Cathedral on October 21.

The section includes some seven counties of the western end of the state, and numbers about 3,500 teachers in it. The one-day convention is considered a substitute for the old-time institute, and in past years practically every teacher in the section has attended.

The president of the association this year is Nicholas R. Cassillo of the New Castle schools, who will be in charge of the convention activities here.

On the night of October 20 the annual meeting of school superintendents and principals will take place in The Castleton hotel.

Criminal Court Shows Light List

Only 13 Cases Listed For Presentation To The Grand Jury As Yet

Crime has been on a vacation since June in Lawrence county. A check-up of the transcripts to be presented to the September grand jury on Monday, September 12, by District Attorney John G. Lamoree shows but 13 cases thus far listed. Of these it is probable there will be a number of pleas.

The total will be increased next week by transcripts from the offices of aldermen and justices of the peace but unless there is a miniature crime wave in the next five or six days, the September term of criminal court will be light.

Auto Driver Held After Hearing In Alderman's Court

Charged with involuntary manslaughter, drunken driving and failure to stop and render assistance, George Wilkinson, Jr., of West Clayton street was held by Alderman O. H. P. Green, Friday afternoon in hall of $3000. Wilkinson was the driver of the car that struck and killed Charles Hute on Moravia street on the afternoon of August 28.

Four witnesses were called by Assistant District Attorney L. K. Donaldson in support of the commonwealth contention. Officers Herman L. Richards and George Price testified to being in the vicinity of the scene of the accident when it occurred and of chasing Wilkinson down Moravia street. Both of them testified he was under the influence of intoxicating liquor when arrested.

Dr. A. L. Hoffmeister testified he examined Wilkinson after the accident and found him "definitely under the influence of alcohol."

Andrew Marshall, a colored resident of Moravia street testified that he saw the Wilkinson car strike Hute. The driver did not stop he said, and he (Marshall) called the attention of the officers to the accident.

No testimony was offered in behalf of Wilkinson and Alderman Green held him for the September grand jury.
